Parental assistance test form

This form has sections for you, your parents, and a supporting person (if applicable) to complete.

You need to fill in this form if you're 18- or 19-years-old, have applied for Jobseeker Support Student Hardship and don't have children in your care.

If you have a partner aged 16 to 19 years old, we may also check if their parents can support them. They'll need to complete one of these forms as well.

This form helps us work out if your parents can provide financial support or if you need financial assistance.

When parental support isn't available

You'll need a reason why you can't rely on financial support from your parents, we call this a parental support gap.

You may have a parental support gap if:

- there has been a family breakdown
- it's unsafe for you to have contact with a parent
- a parent is in prison or long-term hospital care
- a parent has died
- you don't know where a parent is.

You'll need to provide evidence, such as a police report, medical certificate, death certificate or a supporting statement from a professional who knows your situation, such as a teacher, social worker, doctor, nurse, youth coach.

Checking your parents income

If you don't have a parental support gap, your parent(s) will need to confirm their income with us. We'll combine the income of up to two of your parents and work out if the total is at or under the income limit.

Applicant's declaration

- I must tell StudyLink straight away if:
  - my relationship with my parents changes. For example, I can no longer rely on them for financial support, or we have reconciled
  - my parents relationship changes (for example they separate from a step-parent or enter a new relationship)
  - my parents income increases, and my benefit was granted because their income was at or under the income limit.
- I understand what you do with my personal information and how you protect my privacy (privacy information is on page 17).
- I will not share information my parents have given me, other than to give it to the Ministry of Social Development.
- The information I've provided on this form is true and complete.

If you answered 'yes' to question 3 or 4, we don't need the rest of this form to be filled in.

First parent's income information

If a young person's parents aren't able to support them, Jobseeker Support Student Hardship may be paid if their parents income is at or under the income limit. Where appropriate, we'll use up to two parents income when we do the young person's assessment.

Information about how we protect your privacy is on page 17.

More information including income limits can be found on our website studylink.govt.nz/jssh-under-20

Sharing your income information

INFORMATION NOTE:
If you agree to share, keep the pages you've completed in the booklet so the young person provides them to us.

How you share your income information

You can choose if the young person (and their authorised agent, if they have one) can:

- know your income details
- see the results of our income assessment
- tell us about your income when they reapply for support or report a change in circumstances.

You can change your mind at any time, but you'll need to contact us if you do.

If you agree to share your income information with the young person:

- it may be easier for the young person if they have to reapply later
- they can tell us if your income has gone up. You'll also need to complete another of these forms.

If you want to keep your income information private:

- the young person will still need to tell us if there's a change, however you'll need to provide the updated information to us yourself. See the next steps below, for how to do this
- if the young person is reapplying after 26 weeks, you'll need to complete these details again even if your income hasn't changed
- if your income affects their benefit assessment, we may need to explain to them how we worked it out. We can only tell them the type of income you got and if it is near or over the parental income limit.

12 Do you agree to let the young person know your income details, see the results of our assessment, and tell us about your income?

☐ No, I want to keep my information private

☐ Yes, I agree

First parent's declaration

- If I get financial assistance from Work and Income, the information I provide in this form may not be used to update my own details. I will declare it separately.
- I understand what you do with my personal information and how you protect my privacy (privacy information is on page 17 with more detail on our website workandincome.govt.nz/pat-privacy).
- The information I've provided on this form is true and complete.

How we protect your privacy

MINISTRY OF SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT
TE MANATŪ WHAKAHIATO ORA

Collecting your information

We collect your personal information, so we can provide income support, NZ Super or Veteran's Pension, Student Allowance, or Loans and connect you with employment, education and housing services. We do this under various Acts, which are all listed on our website at workandincome.govt.nz/privacy

- To help us do this, we collect information about your identity, your relevant history, and your eligibility for our services.
- We get this information directly from you, and we sometimes collect information about you from others, including other government agencies.
- You can choose not to give us your personal information, but we might not be able to help you if you don't.

Using your information

We use the information you give us to make decisions about the best way to help you.

- These decisions may be about:
  - whether you're eligible for our services
  - running our operations and ensuring our services are effective
  - the services we'll provide in the future.

Sharing your information

Sometimes, we need to share your information outside our Ministry to reach our goal of helping New Zealanders to be safe, strong, and independent.

- To do this, we may share your information with:
  - prospective employers to help you find work
  - contracted service providers that help us to help you
  - health providers if we need your medical information to assess your eligibility
  - other government agencies when we have an agreement with them
  - some other governments if you may be eligible to get or are getting an overseas pension.
- We also share personal information when the law says we have to.

Respecting you and your information

We make sure we follow the Privacy Act to do what's right when we use your information.

- We treat you and your information with respect, by acting responsibly and being ethical.
- We make sure any technology we use meets strict security standards so it keeps your information safe.

Get in touch if you have a question

You have a right to ask to see your personal information, and to ask for it to be corrected if it's wrong.

- If you have a question or a complaint, please get in touch.
- You can find full details about what we do with personal information in our privacy notice at: workandincome.govt.nz/pat-privacy
